S. P.

UT audeam, Domine Clarissime, nomini tuo quicquid hoc libelli est inscribere, facit in primis singularis humanitas tua, quæ mihi ante biennium Londini agenti in rusticissimam [illegible] aditum liberrimum dederit. Ibi magnam mihi movit tuæ liberalitatis admirationem ludus ille literarius, in quo proprius sumptibus pauperum filios curas erudiendos. Cum vero in animum induxi quo eum præsertim consilio institueris, ut scilicet Papismi adversus Ecclesiam Anglicanam libere tunc grassantis, quantum in te erat, cursum inhiberes; eo profecto fui erga te animo, quo decuit hominem e Religione Christianum gratissimo quidem atque observantiæ pleniſſimo. Cum autem mihi omnia supra modum placerent, operis elegantia, Libri typis impreſſi, quorum magnam copiam undique collegeras; tum vero nihil majori me voluptate affecit, quam Librorum MSS. theſaurus, illa quantivis pretii κειμήλια, quæ ibi recondita oculis uſurpabam. Ab illo tempore acerbe admodum tuli præclara iſta monumenta orbi literato nondum innotuiſſe. Cumque non dubitarem, horum Codicum Catalogum idcirco hactenus apud te premi, nec publici juris fieri, ne mentione Bibliothecæ injecta tibi laudes dicere videreres; eam ego, te inconſulto, mihi dedi provinciam. In qua adminiſtranda, etſi modeſtiæ tuæ vim me feciſſe cognoſcam, munificentiam tamen tantam diſſimulare, mihi fateor religio eſt. Hoc vero non eo a me factum putes velim, ut inepta neſcio qua laudatione gratiam tuam colligerem; ſed ut ſciat Reſpublica literaria quis de ſe præclare meritus ſit; ut ſciat Eccleſia quis difficillimis temporibus ſibi propugnator acerrimus exſtiterit: ut denique mei erga te ſtudii cauſſas veriſſimas exponerem.

AD LECTOREM.

MIrari equidem ſoleo, Lector benevole, quid in mentem venerit viris quibuſdam eruditis, ut non ſolum Librorum MSS. Catalogos in lucem non emiſerint ipſi, verum & aliis operi iſti accinctis auctores fuerint ut ab incœpto deſiſterent; plane tanquam id fieri non poſſet abſque maximo Reipublicæ literariæ diſpendio. Ego profecto, cum iis plurimum ſemper deferendum putem, in hac re duces & monitores haud gravate ſequerer; niſi quod mihi videar nonnihil in eorum conſilio ſubodorari, viris qui bonarum literarum rationem habent indignum omnino, planeque deteſtandum. Aperte dico. Non tam diſciplinarum videntur quam ſuarum laudum ſtudio teneri. Sollicitos eos hoc in primis habet, ne quis Librorum MSS. facta editione, palmam neſcio quam ipſis præripiat. Huic incommodo optime obviam iri exiſtimant, ſi privatis forulis Libri deliteſcant, ſolis illis cogniti qui norunt tractare literas, ſibi ipſis nimirum. Illud enim in animo ratum, nihil poſſe accurate curate niſi ipſis auctoribus, in publicum prodire. Doctorum invida hæc arrogantia ludibrium omnino debet æquis rerum æſtimatoribus. Illud certe non verebor dicere, bonas literas raro expertas acriores hoſtes his qui maxime videntur literati. Codices nempe MSS. clam apud ſe ſervando factum, ut tot Libri quotidie mutili mendiſque referti emittantur. Nec enim niſi vetuſtorum Manuſcriptorum beneficio, antiquis auctoribus priſtinam ſuam puritatem ac nitorem (tot præſertim ſeculis interpolitis) reſtituere poſſumus. Cui, obſecro, ad manus non longe commendatior accedit Liber, quem vel ad unius cujuſpiam Codicis Manuſcripti fidem recognitum videmus? Nec ſane immerito: ſi quidem Libri iſtiuſmodi Manuſcripti (modo aliquam vetuſtatis ſpeciem præ ſe ferat) Lectiones variantes, ad verum inveniendum majoris fere ſunt momenti, quam tota Commentariorum volumina. Fruſtra enim Auctoris mentem inveſtigarit, qui non vocabula, ſententias, atque adeo totum orationis filum ob oculos habet integrum atque immaculatum. Quod ſi tandem conſequi poteſt, nullo plerumque negotio Scriptoris ſenſum deprehendit: cum ea in quibus explicandis ſeſe torquent eruditi, non alia fere ſint quam quæ vitioſæ lectionis ſuſpicione laborant. Orandi itaque omnes eſtis, quorum in manus MSS Codices devenerint, ut eorum notitiam orbi præbeatis, nec committatis ut ſitu ac pulvere obducti, amplius in tenebris deliteſcant. Laboris veſtri vobis utique fructus conſtabit uberrimus. Hæc enim provincia illud ſibi peculiare vendicat, quòd in omni literarum parte deſudantes demereatur. Alius Annalium antiquorum volumen conſarcinat: ad Teniſoni penum, lectiſſimis hiſce MSS Codicibus (quos infinito labore magniſque ſumptibus collegit D. Jacobus Waræus, & in hac Bibliotheca repoſuit Nobiliſſimus D. Henricus Comes Clarendoniæ) locupletatum ſe conferat, qui unus plurima Hiſtoriarum volumina ſuppeditat. Alter res Angliæ deſcribit; Hibernica prelo deſtinat alter: ad eandem ipſam Teniſoni Bibliothecam advolent. Quantam ibi vim inventuri ſunt Chartarum, Regeſtorum, Controverſiarum, Epiſtolarum, ad utriuſque regni negotia, tam ſecularia quam Eccleſiaſtica pertinentium! Quanta eos benevolentia complexurus eſt vir ille facillimus atque humaniſſimus! Nec de Muſæo Aſhmolæano minus quicquam jure-peritis ſpondemus. In Dugdalii libris omnia offendent lectu digniſſima; plurima quæ longi etiam itineris tædia atque incommoda abunde compenſabunt: &, quod maximum eſt, in ejus ſcriptis ſpecimen habituri ſunt luculentum, quanto labore ac induſtria conſtet Legum cognitio exquiſita. Vale.

QUæ cauſſa, Vir Ampliſſime, Cl. Dugdalio fuit, ut intra tuas ædes MSS. Libris ſuis hoſpitium peteret; eadem plane mihi eſt, ut nomen tuum horum Catalogo præferam. Satis novit ille, ex uſu quodam domeſtico atque conſuetudine cum monumentis Aſhmoleanis, quantum gratiæ ad ſua opera accederet. Novi nec minus ego, nominis tui auctoritatem res haud ita magni momenti de meliore nota orbi commendaturam. Cui enim ſuſpicari ſubeat (ſi quidem tui Muſæi fama ad extremas terrarum partes pervenit) quicquam ad te pertinere poſſe, niſi quod magnum fuerit atque auguſtum? Cui quidem ampliſſimo ſunt teſtimonio exemplaria MSS. Dugdaliana. Vir enim prudentiſſimus publicæ Literarum u- tilitati in primis consulens, cum animo cœpit cogitare, quo demum modo fieri posset, ut ne (quod fere fatum istius generis Libri subeunt) in occulto jacerent, rarumque adeo invenirent Lectorem. Nec longa aut difficilis erat deliberatio. Ad Te, unum ex omnibus, per quem ejusmodi voti compos fieret, sese confestim contulit. Quis autem in Viro prudentiam desideret? Quam non eum consilii pœniteret, si sciret quot quantique nominis viri, magnificentiæ Tuæ fama excitati, Oxonium quotidie confluunt. Non enim est cur quisquam alias regiones visendi studio teneatur, cum Tu quicquid ubivis gentium rarum est aut minus vulgare, magnis sumptibus collectum, in Palatio isto nobilissimo reposueris.
